The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

No Such Thing as Victimless Crime

There has been surprisingly little opposition to the let-down of California barriers to sexual relations between consenting adults.

Because of the benign attitude, homosexuals, prostitutes, swingers, wife swappers, pornographers and other degenerates have released a barrage of propaganda.

The propaganda takes the form of the proposition that they should not be bothered by the straight world and law enforcement as they do their own thing since they are only taking part in "victimless activities or crimes."

Word comes from State Senator H. L. Richardson, long a champion of morality for the people of the state he serves.

"No way," says Richardson. "There is no such thing as a victimless crime."

Read his words: "Wherever there is a loose community attitude toward homosexuality, porno movies and prostitutes, the crime rate rockets. Hollywood is a living example. Some of that area has become such a cesspool that the legitimate citizens and businessmen are being forced to leave the community."

Degenerates don't just "do their own thing." They inevitably go beyond their own sordid world. Homos go out after what they call "chickens," says Richardson.

Chickens are young, susceptible boys, usually in their early teens, who then become victims of a kind of lifestyle they otherwise may never have considered. Certainly these youngsters and their parents have then become victims.

Pornographers, who claim constitutional protection under the guise of freedom of expression, say they harm nobody. They take in millions of dollars from porn fans in payment for their so-called pleasure. No one is injured when adults view their porn product, they say.

Law enforcement people report those who benefit from porn money include crime syndicates which also deal in hard drugs, white slavery ,and other illegal pursuits.

One of the pressures of the porn industry is that new and novel ways must be found to increase sexual thrills for their patrons. Says Richardson, "This isn't new. Look at the degeneracy of the Marquis de Sade and at the sick depths to which he and his followers sank. Pornography is reaching its inevitable perverted climax.

"Recently a news story revealed the existence of a new kind of porn movie called 'snuff' or 'slasher' films. A New York police detective, assigned to the organized crime control bureau, said that these movies feature the actual murder and dismemberment, on screen, of an unwitting actress. Viewers at private screenings pay up to $200 to see the film.

"While the police have not been able to bust a screening, they have been told the films begin with the usual variety of sexual activity between an actress and several actors. Suddenly a knife appears, and the actress is stabbed to death and dismembered before the camera.

"The only thing new is the advent of the camera. Otherwise, it is the pagan rites of the past centuries where human sacrifices were made to demonic gods. And in Rome where lions lunched on humans while thousands cheered.

"Will the American Civil Liberties Union find a way to defend these movies as freedom of expression?

"I think Americans are starting to realize that we are all victims of the so-called victimless crimes of homosexuality, prostitution and pornography, and we are asking ourselves whether moral Americans shall run our country or shall it be the degenerate apostles of decadence?" Richardson concluded.

Ronald Reagan Says:

Not quite a decade ago, government declared war on poverty . . . and poverty won.

Help is Closer Than Many Think, Reports Indicate

Sheriff's deputies have recently reported that some residents of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley are unaware that sheriff's patrol units are on the street in the area 24-hours a day.

Calls from residents after the Lemon Grove office is closed, and on Saturdays and Sundays, are transferred automatically to the main office in San Diego.

Callers frequently believe that a patrol is then dispatched from downtown and that whatever trouble the caller wanted to report would be long over by the time an officer arrived.

This is not the case. The call goes from the downtown office by radio to a local partol unit in the local area and usually, within a couple of minutes, an officer is on his way.

Cases in Point

Two items were taken from the log book earlier this week which the point.

At 9 p.m. on Thursday a call from Grove Liquor, 7245 Broadway, reported a robbery suspect was on the premises. The call was received by the sheriff's downtown business office at 9:01 p.m. Deputy C. E. Gouge was on the scene at 9:03 p.m.

In another instance, and by coincidence the same officer got the call, The Flower Barrel near Denny's restaurant at College and Federal placed a call concerning a suspicious looking person in the vicinity.

The call was placed at 4:20 p.m. Deputy Gouge was taking a report from the caller at 4:22, records show.

In neither instance was a crime committed by a suspect.

Reorganization Group Meetings Near Completion

The Lemon Grove Reorganization Committee continues to meet on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. at the Lemon Grove Youth Center on School lane.

Last week, the commitee, meeting under the presiding of Karen Thomson, approved extended boundaries for the proposed City of Lemon Grove.

Also discussed was the setting of a maximum tax rate for the proposed city.

Skip Schmidt, executive officer of LAFCO (Local Agency Formation Commission) said that meetings should be concluded by the first week in December so that a report could be made to the LAFCO commission officers.

Recommendations by the reorganization group will be formally considered at a meeting scheduled for December 15 at County Administration Center.

PROPOSED SITE — This 14.5 acre gully west of 69th street will be transformed into a multi-dwelling housing development if the developer can overcome neighborhood opposition, get a letter of assurance from Lemon Grove Schools that new children can be accommodated and earn a nod from the San Diego City Planning Commission.

B'way Hts. Subdivision Stokes New Controversy

By John Kowalczyk

Another attempt to develop an open canyon in the Broadway Heights area and another citizens' movement to keep the plans tacked to the drawing board are both underway across Lemon Grove's southwestern boundary.

Dick-Con Corp., a Southeast San Diego firm, is the developer of a proposed 70-unit subdivision named Rancho Valle, plans of which have begun shuffling their way through City of San Diego government channels. The subdivision is a matter of import to Lemon Grove residents since, despite the fact that the property is annexed to the City of San Diego, it falls within the Lemon Grove School District, specifically the San Miguel Elementary area.

The 14.5 acre site is located west of 69th street and surrounded in San Diego by Mallard, Laconia and Blade streets.

It is the same property upon which a Los Angeles construction company attempted to build a 128-unit townhouse complex in 1972. Strong neighborhood opposition to that plan, and the problem of finding space for an expected influx of 222 schoolage children, sealed the project's doom in September, 1973.

Neighbor Complaints

Rancho Valle's nemesis is the same group of residents, known as the Broadway Heights Community Council who, under guidance from president Mrs. Verna Quinn, blocked the College Crest townhouse project in 1973.

Their complaints about the Rancho Valle plan:

- There is the potential that the additional paved surface in the canyon area will worsen an already bad flooding situation on Federal blvd. The canyon empties into the boulevard which is usually a trouble spot for flooding during the winter rainy season. Their reasoning is that more concrete surface in the canyon will prohibit water absorption.
- The planned accessways present traffic problems. Plans include a street emptying onto Mallard st. at a point near where Radio dr. and Springfield st. also intersect. Charlene dr., which now deadends at the canyon site, would be open to traffic. Charlene residents don't want the additional traffic.
- New residents would worsen an already bad traffic situation on 69th st. and Mt. Vernon streets, both single-lane streets.
- The new plan hurts the Lemon Grove park and recreation area goals since it will add more population to an area already lacking adequate park space and since the development would remove one of a dwindling few remaining

Kiwanis Sells 1060 Boxes In Apple Sale

Apple Chairman Lou Poluzzi said that the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club's "Apple Days" sale was again a success. 1060 boxes of the red delicious apples were bought up in the campaign, bringing in sales of over $12,000.

The sales were about 100 boxes short of last year's, but the funds collected were sufficient to call the sale a success, Lou said.

For those who missed the "Apple Days," orders are still being taken for boxes which are delivered when lots of 10 or more accumulate. To place an order, call Lou Poluzzi at Lemon Grove Junior High, 469-4183. Mr. Poluzzi is the school principal.

Fire Chief Dixon To Retire; Robert Adams Moves Up

Fred Dixon

He will leave the department on February 16 after 24 years of service.

Dixon succeeded former Chief H. L. Hensley under whom he had served for 17 years. Dixon held the department's top post four years.

Dixon will be succeeded by Senior Captain Robert N. Adams, who rose through the ranks after he was employed in 1957.

Adams has completed 16 fire-related training courses during the 18 years he served here. Included are the Fire Command Officers Academy; Task Force Commander Seminars; Oil Fire School (instructor) and Emergency Operations Planning. Adams was named captain in 1969 and senior captain in 1973.

Dixon, 53, who lives on Central ave. came to Lemon Grove in 1946 with his wife, Lorene. They have a daughter, Mrs. Tom Danberger of Lemon Grove and two grandchildren.

Dixon is described as a "complete fireman who devoted his career completely to fire protection."

His plans, he said, include traveling until he tires of it. After that, "I'm undecided. I've been out of contact with the other world too long to have a retirement program planned."

Directors have noted over the years Dixon's competency in the repairing and upkeep of his fire equipment. "He's a master mechanic," one of the directors once said. "His competency has saved the district thousands of dollars."

Robert Adams

He is an ardent fisherman—for which he found too little time — and a collector of knives.

He has not been much of a "joiner" but he did attend weekly meetings of the Lemon Grove Lions club of which he is past president.

Draft Approved; VdO Committee to Hold Final Hearing December 10

The Citizens Executive Committee for the Valle de Oro community planning program met last week to approve the first working document of long-range growth goals for the area. Valle de Oro enocmpasses the unincorporated region including Spring Valley, La Presa, Rancho San Diego, Brookside, Casa de Oro and Mt. Helix.

The CEC has held regular meetings and public hearings throughout the year to generate input from the community on how growth in future years should be regulated. The study now approaches its final stages, as a hearing — sheduled for December 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the Auditorium at Spring Valley Jr. High — will be the public's last chance for comments and suggestions regarding the report.

The twelve-point draft, approved by CEC last Wednesday after minor revisions, will be given final approval by the 42-member committee following the December hearing. The report is then sent to the County Planning Commission and then on to the County Board of Supervisors, in February 1976.

The draft lists the committee's interpretation of the community's goals and objectives in the following areas: land use, open space, transportation, recreation, conservation, scenic highways, seismic safety, public safety, noise, housing, public facilities and community design.

Copies of the draft may soon be available at the Spring Valley Library.

Also, the draft will be published in local newspapers prior to the December 10 hearing at Spring Valley Jr. High. The school is located at 3900 Conrad drive, Spring Valley.

Complaint Charges False Ad Claims

Charles Manfredi, 29, a distributor of an unofficial Bicentennial magazine, was subject of a six-count complaint announced last week by City Attorney John Witt.

Manfredi, who lives at 3081 Meade ave., Saan Diego, the complaint contended, made false statements about the nature and circulation of his publication in order to obtain advertising from business people throughout the county and endorsements from public officials.

Manfredi was released on $1,500 bail.

Msgr. John W. McDonagh

Victorville — 1934-42; Holy Family church, San Diego—1942-48 before coming to Lemon Grove.

Msgr. McDonagh was an outspoken man. While some of his parishioners were sometimes vexed by his straightforward approach on many matters, all deeply respected him.

During his final years in Lemon Grove he was continually distressed by the plight of the Irish on the Continent. He distributed scores of clippings from Irish newspapers concerning Irish-England problems to many of his acquaintances including the editor of this newspaper.

Eat and Grow Younger

Most Beneficial Protein Diet Is Matter of Quality; Not Quantity

By LELORD KORDEL

Number Six of a Series

Not all proteins are alike. It is as much a question of "plenty of protein" as it is a question of making certain to eat enough of the right kind of protein — or complete proteins. The youth protecting value of the protein foods you eat depends not so much on the quantity as on the quality of the protein you select.

In recent years you've probably heard or read about "the amino acids." What this means is that all food protein is broken down in the chemical laboratory of your body into amino acids.

The truth about these various kinds of food proteins was first suspected when laboratory animals were noticed to be slowly starving to death on an exclusive diet of certain proteins, and yet thriving on an exclusive diet of still other proteins.

From these observations it was discovered that some foods are complete proteins, while others are incomplete. What this means is simply that some foods (the complete proteins) contain all of the essential amino acids, and other foods do not.

You could live to a healthy, youthful old age by eating nothing except the foods that are complete proteins (witness the exclusively meat-eating Eskimos and Gauchos), whereas slow starvation would be the inevitable result if you attempted living exclusively on the incomplete vegetable proteins.

Lean meat, (this includes gland-meats, fish, poultry), eggs, cheese and other milk products are complete proteins ,that is, they contain all of the essential amino acids in correct proportions for maximum human nourishment.

Incomplete Proteins

Whole grain products, soybeans, legumes and some nuts are classed as partially complete proteins — meaning that their amino acids are not in balanced proportions to meet all body needs. However these proteins are valuable "secondary" foods.

Vegetables, fruits and some grains are incomplete proteins. Corn, for instance, contains only seven essential amino acids, while cabbage has even fewer. Yet by no means does this lessen the value of vegetables, fruits and whole grains in your diet; what "incomplete" means is that you cannot subsist entirely on these low-grade protein foods. But these incomplete proteins can be used to great advantage in a diet as supplements to the high-protein foods.

(When I say that you cannot subsist on a diet of fruits and vegetables, I can imagine you thinking, "But how about the vegetarians?" We'll get to them a little further along.)

Each plant or animal food we eat contains a special variety of protein. The closer a food protein resembles human protein, the more valuable it is for human nutrition. That is why we speak of high-grade proteins, meaning those foods that yield a maximum of protein nutrition in relation to the quantity consumed; and the low grade proteins, meaning those that furnish the body with only small amounts of usable protein.

Meat Worth More

To illustrate: 100 grams of meat protein (high-grade) are far more valuable to human nutrition that 100 grams of carrot protein (low grade).

A diet built around foods containing all of the essential amino acids is a youth protecting health-promoting diet because it is a high-protein diet. If any doubt still lingers in your mind that a high-protein diet is imperative for you to look younger and live out your allotted span of years, let me remind you that you are made of protein.

Let me outline briefly what we know to the direct effect of the essential amino acids on the human body. You needn't remember their names—which are jawbreakers!)

Argenine is called the "fatherhood amino acid." When seriously lacking in the body, the sex instinct undergoes a marked decrease in men and women alike.

Trytophane is known to help ward off signs of premature aging. It protects you against certain eye disorders, easy susceptibility to colds and respiratory disorders.

Valine is directly related to the nervous system (one part of the body that really takes a beating as we grow older), and your diet must contain plenty of this protein if you want to avoid nervous disorders and digestive upsets.

Methionine, if seriously lacking in the body may cause hardening of the liver (cirrhosis) and nephritis (a serious kidney disease). It is also necessary to maintain body weight.

Red Blood Cells

All of these essential amino acids, plus the literally thousands of different protein combinations manufactured in your body from them — must do an uninterrupted job of building, repairing and replacing, if you are to remain a living animal. (The red coloring matter in your blood, or hemoglobin as it's called for example, may contain as many as 576 different amino acid groups.

A red blood cell lives about 30 days. This means that every month a fresh, newly processed red blood cell must be recruited from your bone marrow into the bloodstream as a replacement.

To make sure that you have the correct answer to the nutritional riddle "How much protein is enough?" your safest bet is to eat more than enough.

Next: You cheat your body of fine protein if you ban meat from you diet.

Jones Wins HoC Award 3rd Time

Top performers in three diversified sports . . . baseball, yachting and motorcycling . . . have drawn recognition as September Stars of the Month from the San Diego Hall of Champions Brietbard Athletic Awards Committee.

Already a two-time recipient of the honor during 1975, San Diego Padre pitcher Randy Jones was singled out again for becoming the first hurler in team history to win 20 games in a season and for leading the National League in earned run averages with a mark of 2.24.

Previously named a Star of the Month in May and July, Jones is among the few major leaguers to lose 20 decisions in one season and then win as many the following year.

Pied Piper Skipper

Lowell North, a member of the San Diego Hall of Fame, was tabbed for skippering the 35-foot sloop Pied Piper to the world's one-ton sailing championship over an ocean course off Newport, R.I., after earlier capturing the national title. He and co-owner Dick Jennings of Chicago won three of the five races in the series and also picked up a second and a fifth.

Rounding out the trio which topped the voting by the Awards Committee was Don Vesco of El Cajon, who became the first man in the annals of cycling to exceed 300 miles per hour. He piloted his Yamaha speedster over a measured course at a rate of 303.812 MPH to establish a new national standard and after a subsequent run was credited with a world record of 302.928. The latter is recognized by the sanctioning body on the basis of his average for the two tests.

Aztecs Seek Rebound Saturday Against Tough Spartan Foe

The first of crucial back-to-back PCAA football games is on tap for San Diego State Saturday when the Aztecs meet San Jose State in Spartan Stadium, at 1:50 p.m.

The game will be regionally televised by ABC and can be seen in the San Diego area on Channel 39. This marks the first time the Aztecs have been on television since turning major in 1967.

Both San Jose and State are 8-1 overall this season and both carry perfect records into Saturday's conference game. San Diego is 3-0 while the Spartans are 4-0. A San Jose win would assure them of the PCAA Championship while an Aztec win would set up a title showdown against Long Beach State next week.

San Jose upped its record to 8-1 with a 29-10 win over New Mexico last week. The Spartans rolled up 422 yards total offense while giving up 398. New Mexico's high powered passing attack accounted for 264 yards on 19 completions on 40 attempts.

Spartans Records

Tailback Rick Kane carried the ball 30 times for the Spartans against New Mexico for 157 yards. For the season he has 957 yards on 174 carries and is the alltime single season rusher for the Spartans.

He is just 43 yards shy of becoming the first Spartan back to rush for 1,000 yards in a season.

Quarterback Roger Proffitt hit 12 of 29 passes for 156 yards against New Mexico. He is now 92 of 210 for 1433 yards for the season. Kicker Lou Rodriguez had three field goals against New Mexico to give him 15 for the season — a new PCAA record.

San Diego State saw its record fall to 8-1 with a 31-24 loss to Arizona before a sellout crowd of 53,611 in San Diego Stadium — largest in Aztec history.

Quarterback Craig Penrose hit 25 of 43 passes for 258 yards and two scores. Both the TD's went to tight end Vollon Dixon.

Penrose remains second in the nation in passing with an average of 17.1 completions per game. Gene Swick of Toledo is first at 17.4. The Aztecs remain the No. 1 passing team in the country with an average of 297.0 yards per game.

The Aztecs led Arizona 10-0 and 17-7 in the early going last week, but the Wildcats struck for two quick TD's at the end of the first half to take a 21-17 lead at the half.

San Diego regained the lead in the third quarter, but Arizona led 31-24 late in the game. It was then that Penrose hit Rick Ellwood with a 31 yard pass to set the Aztecs up with first and goal at the five. That opportunity and a later one from the Wildcat 24 eluded the Aztecs.

Roger Craig 'Comes Home' As Padres Pitching Coach

The San Diego Padres have named Roger Craig as the club's new pitching coach it was announced by Padres General Manager Peter Bavasi.

Craig, 44, was one of the original Padre coaches when the club began operations back in 1969 and was with the team until early 1973 when Don Zimmer replaced Preston Gomez as field manager. He then took over the reins as pitching coach for the Houston Astros in October 1973 and remained with that club until the end of the 1975 campaign.

"We are pleased to have Roger returning to San Diego," Bavasi said. "Since he was already under contract for the 1976 season with the Astros we contacted Tal Smith (Houston's general manager) for permission to talk to Roger and were happy to have them agree and subsequently release him from his contract."

Craig, who is presently running a youth baseball school here in the San Diego area, ended a 12-year major league career in 1966 with the Philadelphia Phillies with a 2-1 record to give him 74 lifetime victories.

He broke into the majors in 1955 with the old Brooklyn Dodgers and stayed with them through 1961.

Then he was with the New York Mets (1962-63), St. Louis Cardinals (1964), Cincinnati Reds (1965) and then finally with the Phillies.

His best season was 1959 with the Dodgers (their second season in Los Angeles) when he fashioned an 11-5 record with a 2.06 ERA.

Following his active playing career he served as a scout for the Dodgers in 1967 and managed Albuquerque in 1968 before joining the Padres. He also served briefly as the Dodgers minor league pitching instructor during the second portion of the 1973 season.

He replaces Tom Morgan.

Maritime School Seeks Applicants For Fall, 1976

The California Maritime Academy, the West's only maritime college, is now taking applications from men and women for the fall, 1976 class. Cal Maritime graduates are awarded a Bachelor of Science degree in either Nautical Industrial Technology or Marine Engineering Technology. Graduates are also licensed by the U.S. Coast Guard as third mates and third assistant engineers for U.S. Merchant Marine vessels.

Jobs for graduates are plentiful, according to a Cal Maritime spokesman. Last year, members of the graduating class had two to three job offers to choose from and 98 per cent of the class was employed less than one month after graduation from the four year course of study. Graduates went to work at incomes ranging from $15,000 to $18,000 per year.

Also, qualified grads may receive a commission as Ensign in the U.S. Naval or Coast Guard Reserve. Applicants must be high school graduates between ages 17 and 24. Veterans are accepted up to age 27. Transfers from other colleges may receive up to one year of credit for the four year program.

The school is located on the Carquinez Strait in Vallejo, California. Applicants should write to the Admissions Office, California Maritime Academy, P.O. Box 1392, Vallejo, CA 94590.

Padres Get Meoli From Cal. Angels

The San Diego Padres received infielder Rudy Meoli from the California Angels to complete an earlier two-for-one trade which saw the Padres send pitcher Gary Ross to the Angels for outfielder Bobby Valentine.

Meoli, 24, hit .214 for California in 70 games last season, splitting playing time with several others at the shortstop position.

A lefthanded hitter, he had been in the California organization since he first entered pro ball back in 1969. He appeared briefly with the Angels at the end of the 1971 campaign, was with the club for the entire 1973 season (.223) and then split 1974 between Salt Lake City (.308) and California (.244), finishing out the last two and a half months of that year on the major league roster.

Presently playing winter ball in the Puerto Rican League for Bayamon, Meoli made three all-star teams while playing in the minors. He began his career by being named to the All-Pioneer League squad in 1969 and then followed that by winning spots on the Texas League (1971) and Pacific Coast League (1974) all-star squads.

Interestingly enough, despite his up and down movements over the past few seasons, he appeared in the first three of Nolan Ryan's four no-hitters and was credited with a saving play in Ryan's May 15, 1973 gem.

Perris 'Boat-In' Open to Public

SACRAMENTO — The Department of Navigation and Ocean Development (DNOD), the State's boating agency, has completed a new "boat-in" project at the Bernasconi Pass area of Perris Reservoir in Riverside County.

The facility includes a beach area designated for water skiing, the boat-in area, 12 acres of landscaping, drinking fountains and chemical toilets. In preparation for future development more than 600 trees have been planted.

"The 'boat-in' concept is one of total recreation," said DNOD Acting Director Frank Torkelson. "With the picnicking and camping areas planned for future development at Perris, this facility promises a wide range of recreational use."

Tentatively planned are 75 overnight campsites and 150 day-use picnic sites complete with tables and barbeques, swim beach and permanent restrooms. The project is 18 miles south-east of Perris and a two hour drive from San Diego.

Total cost was approximately $540,000. Expenditures were approved by the Navigation and Ocean Development Commission.

This game will be the only tune-up for the season opener, Friday night, November 28, on the USD court, when the Toreros will host Occidental.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

It is a shocking thing to experience. Complete erosion of all the life sustaining supplies. Even the removal of warm clothing and blankets stored against emergency need.

No national disaster, this. No sacking bomb shelter stores or emergency stocks placed in reserve against flood or famine. It's not all that life or deathish. It just seems that way.

'Cause deep down, where emotions attach themselves directly to your gastroinstinal track in that part of the abdominal cavity known as the ulcer gullet, losses like this, waste and misappropriations of this sort, hurt with an intensity that is known only to fathers of semi-grown children.

The kids have been out in the camper-trailer again and "liberated" all the stores.

The carefully planned and provided seven days' supply of balanced diet, the stock scientifically designed to accommodate quick weekend "get-aways" with a minimum of provisioning, the food stuffs so carefully collected and so lovingly packed in place have been swallowed up, depleted and consumed.

The only items left were three cans of sauerkraut, two packs of powdered milk, a tin of sardines and an open bottle of ketchup.

Even the beer was gone. The sixpack left chilling in the freezer and the sixpack hidden in storage behind the port-a-poty. Both gone. Damn.

And while the heavy winter jacket was still hanging in the closet, the light jackets, all the sweaters and the extra socks and shorts and three of the five blankets were gone. Along with more than half the cooking utensils.

It was very plain. Instead of camping for the weekend, one faced a weekend of collecting camping gear. There was food to be purchased, clothes to be collected and cooking, washing and eating utensils to be gathered and returned to their rightful place.

"Where in the sweet hell of reason did all the food go," I thundered at the collected crowd of family answering my call to assemblage. "Food. Clothes. Pots and pans. All missing. Someone even swiped my beer."

"Oh, aren't you gone yet?" answers my spouse with a question. "I thought you were going to hook up the trailer and go camping with the boys."

"There's no food out there. No clothes. I'm even out of socks and shorts. And someone even . . ."

"I washed them. They're all in your drawer," she interrupted. "And if the food is gone, you ate it."

"Gee, dad. You forget to fill up after the last time we went fishing," said the number two son. "Remember? All we had for breakfast that last morning was some crackers and sardines. You even tried it with ketchup to see if it woul taste better. Remember?"

"Oh, yeah. Well . . . what about the blankets and the clothes?"

"The clothes are either in the wash or hanging in the closets," answered the wife in that quiet way she uses when she's getting angry. "Those are not camp clothes. Those are work clothes. Just in case you feel like doing some work around here for a change."

I could see I was losing ground. "What about the blankets?" I asked in a very moderate tone.

"On our beds," same the answer. "In the kids room and ours. What do you think is keeping this family warm these chilly nights? And your pots and pans have been washed for two weeks and are gathering dust getting in the way here waiting for you to take them out to your damn trailor."

She walked away in a huff, just like a woman. Can't stand a little criticism.

What about the beer?" I directed at the number two son.

"Gee, dad. You drank it. Remember? Last Saturday you sent me out to get your beer while you were watching that college football game."

"That was the cold stuff, what about . . ."

"On Sunday you sent me after the beer behind the port-a-poty."

There's only one thing worse than someone cleaning our your camping stores and that's a wife and a bunch of kids who remember who did it.

Weekend camping sure ain't the fun it used to be.

Mariners Home for Pair At Arena Tonight, Sat.

San Diego's Mariners attempt to regroup their wounded forces this week when they play a pair of Sports Arena contests against WHA competition. The Mariners host Cleveland, tonight, and Toronto, Saturday, with both games beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Tonight's meeting is held in conjunction with the Arena's ninth anniversary and is one of five family nights in the 1975-76 season. The Arena will feature all concession items at twenty-five cents each while children 16 years of age or under will pay $1 for any ticket when accompanied by an adult.

The Mariners are facing both Cleveland and Toronto for the first time this season. San Diego is coming from a four-game road trip that saw it win one, tie one and lose two.

Coach Ron Ingram's icers are 4-5-2 after their first 11 games and are fourth in the WHA's Western Division but only four points behind Houston's front-running total of 14. Cleveland is third in the East with Toronto, off to a slow start, last in the Canadian sector.

The Mariners will definitely have winger Brian Morenz (knee surgery) and defenseman Jim Hargreaves (charley horse) out of the lineup with winger Wayne Rivers (pulled back muscles) very unlikely to suit and defenseman Mike McMahon (bruised bone on right instep) a possibility to see limited action.

Left winger Gene Peacosh continues his torrid scoring pace with 11 goals in as many games and 16 points overall. Linemate Norm Ferguson is next with seven goals and seven assists and their center, Ray Adduono, has yet to tally a goal but has 12 assists.

Following the two-game set at the Arena, San Diego travels to Edmonton, Sunday, and Calgary, Tuesday, before returning home to host Denver, November 20, and Edmonton, November 22.

Mats Retain Sword In 13-0 Helix Victory

By Steve De Nunzio

In the annual football game played between the Mt. Miguel Matadors and the Helix Highlanders, a sword (the Claymore) is awarded to the winner for the third year in a row.

The Claymore is said to have been made in Scotland. But it appears that the handsome broadsword belongs in Spring Valley. Friday the Matadors of Spring Valley blanked the Highlanders. Mt. Miguel scored in the first quarter with Junior Tiamalu's one yard dive. Tiamalu repeated that performance in the fourth quarter.

The Matadors gained 258 yards while Helix gained 155. The Mats are 5-3; the Highlanders 2-6.

Friday night's win put the Matadors in a three way tie for second place in the Grossmont League. The other teams tied are Grossmont and El Cajon, both of whom have defeated the Matadors. Mt. Miguel is the school to beat league-leading Granite Hills.

If Mt. Miguel is to make it to the CIF (California Intrascholastic Federation) playoffs, it must win this season's final game against Santana.

O'Ree, Fitzpatrick Star With Sharks

The San Diego Sharks put a 2-game undefeated streak on the line Sunday when the team hosts the L.A. Bruins in a Pacific Southwest Hockey League game at the Mira Mesa House of Ice. Face-off is 7:30.

The Sharks take a 1-0-1 record into the game, coming off a wild 10-10 tie against the Anaheim Flyers Sunday. The San Diego victory was an 8-5 decision over West Covina on opening night November 2.

The semi-pro Sharks went into the first of 5 meetings with Los Angeles led by former Gull Willie O'Ree and Sandy Fitzpatrick along with Grant Albright. Each of the trio has 9 points in 2 games. Fitzpatrick leads the Shark goal-getters with 6 to go with 3 assists, while O'Ree has 4 goals and 5 assists. Albright, who centers between O'Ree and Fitzpatrick, has 2 goals and 7 assists.

ASL Soccer Team Comes to San Diego

The name of the new American Soccer League franchise in San Diego is San Diego Surf.

The name was among the first submitted to the club in the "name the team" contest just concluded. Club officials were pleased with the number of entries considering the short notice to the public.

The name was submitted by a 14-year old girl from El Cajon, Ann Karavantes, a youth soccer player who will receive two adult season tickets for the Surf soccer season starting in April.

All others who submitted entries will receive two youth tickets for the season opener.

$180,000 AWSDO-9 Scheduled For Torrey Pines Feb. 12-15

The ninth edition of the $180,000 Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament featuring defending champion J. C. Snead facing the challenge of the nation's top pros will be February 12-15 at Torrey Pines golf course.

The Open, set for both north and south courses the first two days and the south course for the final 36 holes, will be preceded by a $10,000 Celebrity Pro-Am event on both Torrey Pines courses Feb. 11.

Sequel to the San Diego Open dating back to 1952, the AWSDO will be co-sponsored by the Century Club of San Diego and singer Andy Williams. Hal Tebbetts is general chairman and Norrie West executive director. Steve Horell, Century Club president, is tournament coordinator.

This year's tourney is again the sixth event on the U. S. PGA Tour, set after the Bob Hope Desert Classic and before the Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open.

Sudden Death

The 1975 finish produced the longest sudden death playoff of the entire year's tour, going four holes before Snead birdied the 18th to edge Ray Floyd. The then defending titlist Bobby Nichols had bogies himself out of the playoff on the first extra hole.

Top Ten

Most, if not all, of the top 10 money winners of 1975 are expected to tee off in the "Andy." These 10 are Nicklaus, Johnny Miller, Wieskopf, Hale Irwin, Gene Littler, Al Geiberger, Tom Watson, John Mahaffey, Lee Trevino and Bruce Crampton.

Celebs

First Celebrity Pro-Am acceptances from the field of sport include Randy Jones, Don Sutton, Paul (Bear) Bryant, Sid Gillman, Don Drysdale, Bill Vukovich and Dan Gurney.

The final two days of the Open will be telecast nationally by CBS.

Chargers Drop 8th Game; Denver Here Sunday at 1

"We played terrible football the first half but we looked like men in the second," quoth Tommy Prothro, the Chargers head coach after the New England Patriots beat his team 33-19 Sunday.

"For the first time (in the second half) we looked like we wanted to fight someone when things weren't going well."

That is an apt description of the last game. It was snooze time for two quarters except for the protection in the beginning minutes quarterback Dan Fouts got on his left side — usually his blind side. After the first quarter the Pats figured that out and took away the one thing Fouts had — time to pass. In spite of this, Fouts completed 25 passes of 42 for 329 yards and Pat Curran, tight end, caught 8 for 90 yards. Gary Garrison posted his 23rd career 100-yard game with 108 yards for 7 passes with one touchdown.

Broncs Streak

The Denver Broncos (3-5) participate in a 1 o'clock kickoff with the Chargers (0-8) at the Big Stadium Sunday. The Broncos lost their fifth straight game in six starts Sunday to the Cincinnati Bengals.

A couple of promotions are on tap Sunday.

In one, a drawing for a Dodge Charger will be held with entry blanks available at local Dodge dealers.

Ballots will be available at the Stadium for electing NFL "Man of the Year." Dennis Partee, Terry Owens and Doug Wilkerson are Charger candidates.

There will also be the annual regional Punt, Pass and Kick contest. Three San Diego County youngsters are among the hopefuls.

Next week the Chargers play the Minnesota Vikings at Bloomington, Minn. That game will be broadcast over KSDO at 11 a.m. The Broncos game will also be aired on the same station with Andy Musser and Dick Van Raaphorst at the mikes.

Lujan Fights Bey in Wed. Arena Card

Professional boxing returns to San Diego Wednesday after a three months hiatus.

Two 10-round features will be offered at the Sports Arena at "modest prices" backed up by free parking.

Danny Millsap, the promoter, lists $500 purses for each of the bouts.

In one, Manuel Lujan, a recent San Diego High School grad with a 24-0 record, will meet Abdul Bey of Ghana by way of Los Angeles in a featherweight elimination bout. Lujan is ranked no. 10 in World Boxing Assn. ratings.

Mexican Buzzsaw

In a lightweight elimination bout, Miguel Mayon, listed as San Diego champion and described as the Mexican Buzzsaw, will engage Nacho Castenada, a Mexican veteran of the Los Angeles ring.

Two other four-round bouts make up the card.

Millsap said that he would bring in a card at least once a month if next week's show attracted a reasonable turnout. It should. Seats are scaled at $2.50 to $5 with parking free.

The card will be offered in the 6,000-seat section of the Arena which will be cut off by drapes from the remainder of the 15,000-seat facility.

Reservations may be made at 224-4176.

Rule Changes Make Some Eligible for More Welfare

A recent court decision makes back payments available to three classes of persons who applied for or received Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) since October 1, 1971.

Potentially eligible for refunds are persons who applied for or received AFDC in the last three years while:

- pregnant, or living with someone who was pregnant.
- receiving, or living with someone receiving, aid because of blindness, disability or old age.
- receiving housing, utilities, food or clothing which was paid for by someone else.

The refunds are being distributed as compensation to AFDC recipients or applicants adversely affected by three now defunct or amended regulations. All of the changes involve "in-kind" value, meaning the attempt, in the course of determining eligibility, to set a dollar amount of some aspect of the apllicant's living situation.

The adjustments are the result of the decision in Cooper vs. Obledo, which ruled that the Department of Benefit Payments must not only make back payments available to certain persons, but must make large-scale efforts to inform the public of their availability.

New Driver's License To be 3-Min. Wait

Immediate issuance of drivers licenses, complete with full-color photos, will be field-tested by the State Department of Motor Vehicles, it was announced recently.

The process will be tested in the Hayward, California office to determine its feasibility and costs beginning April 5.

Motorists may soon be able to walk out of a DMV office with a new drivers license in hand within minutes after finishing the written exam. Ordinarily, it takes about ten days for the new license to be mailed to the driver.

A new camera being considered for the quick license processing is capable of taking a picture every 15 seconds and will develop and laminate the photo license in less than three minutes.

Subdivision Stokes Controversy

areas where a park could be developed.

Past Park Plans

Attempts to turn the Rancho Valle land into a park for use by San Diego City and Lemon Grove residents have failed in the past. San Diego City denied a request for its development in 1970 because there weren't enough city people living within the ¼-mile radius —the city couldn't count Lemon Grove residents who pay county taxes for parks.

A vote to annex the Broadway Heights area into County Service District No. 52 failed in March 1974, ending hopes of a county park project for the land.

A six-acre park on nearby Mt. Vernon street is now under construction. Voters turned down a tax increase referendum in March 1974 for the park, but a HUD grant saved the project this year.

Mrs. Quinn points out, however, that park space in this area still lags behind the County's goal of 15 acres of park land per 1,000 people. "To meet this goal based on Lemon Grove's population projection for 1990 (the furthest the County will go in future park planning today), Lemon Grove would have to have 525 acres of parks."

Presently, the area has 13.2 acres plus the 6-acre Mt. Vernon Park under construction.

Spring Valley is in an even worse situation, she says. She calculates a needed 1271 acres to be consistent with County park goals. Spring Valley presently has 19 acres in park space.

School Nod Essential

The subdivision developer has appealed to the Lemon Grove School District for a letter of assurance that school facilities would be available to school children living in the proposed subdivision. The school board has twice deferred action on the request since numerous changes in the plans have been made. School officials are also concerned about the lack of a proper walkway onto 69th street for children enroute to San Miguel school.

School Asst. Supt. Paul Reynolds said that a conservative estimate of 40 to 50 elementary school children added to the San Miguel district from the subdivision probably could be accommodated. The capacity at San Miguel is 500, and 480 now attend the school. Boundary adjustments or a double session kindergarten class are two possible solutions to the influx, he said.

SRB Meetings

These and other problems have surfaced at City Subdivision Review Board meetings, attended by Mrs. Quinn, other members of the Broadway Heights Council, and Lemon Grove school officials.

At the last meeting, held October 23, the developer was informed that his plans for 5000 sq ft. lots was inconsistent with the surrounding neighborhood's housing density of 6,000 sq. ft. lot averages. The firm promised to rezone its lots to R-1-6 (6,000 sq. ft.) and is expected to present a revised plan at a Subdivision Advisory Committee (SAC) meeting scheduled for November 24.

Once the Rancho Valle plan goes through SAC, it will be presented to the City Planning Commission for final okay or rejection. The Planning Commission's decision, whether pro or con, is likely to be appealed by the losing interest.

"If Rancho Valle is approved, neighbors in Broadway Hts. plan to make an appeal on the decision," said Mrs. Quinn. "If the commission rules against the plan, the developer may also appeal. In either case, the final say is given by the San Diego City Council."

The legal entanglements of the project will likely carry well into 1976, in any case. In the meantime, the plan must earn a high mark from an Environmental Impact Report, to be prepared by the City.

A representative of the City's Environmental Quality Dept. indicated to Mrs. Quinn last week that the report would probably show no significant impact on the purely physical environment.

Mrs. Quinn — a 13-year resident of the area with a home on Charlene, and formerly of Lemon Grove — said that her group will attempt to counter the report with their complaints about the impact on the neighborhood surrounding the complex and the socio-economic impacts which will, presumably, not be covered by the EIR.

Petition Planned

Another weapon in the Broadway Heights Council's battle chest will be a petition of the area's neighbors which is to be taken soon and presented at the Planning Commission hearings.

Mrs. Quinn is confident that an overwhelming majority of Broadway Heights residents will oppose the project. A house-to-house poll taken during the 1972 College Crest controversy showed 97% of the residents opposed the development. "Some blocks were 100% against," Mrs. Quinn said.

Jamul News

A caravan of parents will transport about 60 boys and girls from the Jamul/Las Flores School to Santana High Saturday to participate in the Santee / Kiwanis Invitational Track Meet. 6th and 7th graders will be performing in the meet, according to phys. ed. director at the school, Bill Hammack.

Supervisor Conde Loses Bid to Keep Other Sups Sober

Despite the planned expenditure of $26,000 on a program of counseling for County employees with an alcoholism problem, the Board of Supervisors defeated a proposal to prohibit the possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages in County offices.

The proposal was made by Supervisor Lou Conde.

"It's inconsistent that this Board would vote to spend $26,000 of the taxpayers' money on a problem and fail to outlaw the root cause of that problem," Conde said following the 4-1 vote defeating his measure. During discussion on the matter, Conde accused other Board members of refusing to support the proposal because they want to drink in their own offices.

"This is designed to stop drinking by public servants in their offices during working hours," he said. "If the average citizen is concerned about their elected representatives' actions while they're sober, wait until they're drunk," he said.

The Associated Students of Grossmont College, will host the college's first winter picnic from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., November 15 at the Big Oak Ranch, Harbison Canyon. A full day of entertainment, swimming, games and picnic contests will be included.

Entertainment will be offered throughout the day with music for dancing provided by a jazz band and a local folk group. Door prizes of dinners in area restaurants, turkeys, theatre tickets and many other gifts will be taken home by lucky winners.

The public is invited to share Grossmont College's first Winter Picnic for a day of fun. Campus clubs will sell food and refreshments for those not wishing to bring their own. Advanced tickets may be purchased at the ASGC Campus Box Office. General admission is $1.50 with ASGC members admitted for $1. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

Tickets may also be purchased at the gate of the picnic grounds with 25 cents penalty.

Air Pollution Laws Tightened

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley air pollutors face a new, tougher enforcement policy starting this week, according to William Simmons, San Diego County Air Pollution Control Officer.

The local area faces action generally on two levels only, he said. One, the small service stations, will be inspected for submerged fill pipes. This doesn't mean much to the public but station operators are familiar with the requirement.

The public can attract Air Pollution Control District (APCD) wrath by open burning. Usually, a column of smoke attracts someone who calls either the local fire station or APCD.

Such calls may be made to 235-4174 to contact APCD. Care should be taken not to call the emergency numbers of local fire stations. Business phones are 463-0209 for Spring Valley and 465-0564 for Lemon Grove.

Under APCD's new enforcement policy the crackdown will be on violators of those who ignore notices of violation.

The new policy, Simmons said, gives first-time violators 10 working days to file a petition for a variance from the rules, and five working days for those holding existing variances which have expired or which have conditions not being adhered to. Then court action is taken.

Previously, a second notice was issued after an office conference with the violator. Then court action was taken if the problem persisted.

The modest tightening of enforcement procedures is one of several changes currently under consideration by APCD.

Dollar value was up by $21 million.

Caylor Replaces Meyer on County Plan Commission

Roy Caylor, 45, resident of Lake Morena Village, has been named to serve a term on the County Planning Commission. Caylor was nominated for the term by Supervisor Dick Brown, and will serve until Dec. 31, 1977. He replaces Jack Meyer of El Cajon.

He also served as a member of the Grossmont Hospital Advisory Committee, and for four years was a director of the El Cajon Chamber of Commerce.

In 1974 he was on the East County Board of Directors of the United Way. He was elected president of the Lake Morena/Campo Chamber of Commerce for 1974-75 and was elected charter president of the Mt. Empire Kiwanis Club for 1975.

He was also recently elected to a three-year term as fire commissioner of the Lake Morena Volunteer Fire Department.

Fewer School Kids

National Center for Education Statistics expects current school population in the U. S. to drop from 59.1 million to 55.7 million by 1983, mostly because of declines in the birth rate.

Dear Editor:

The Grossmont District Board of Trustees will be deciding shortly the smoking on campus by students issue. This results from legislation (Senate Bill 171) permitting local school boards to adopt such regulations.

The Grossmont board has asked for input from local residents.

As a parent, taxpayer and concerned citizen, I strongly object to smoking on campus for the following reasons:

1. We would be condoning the use of tobacco by young people when many agencies have submitted proof that it is injurious to health.

2. We are encouraging breaking the law. The State Penal Code makes it unlawful to sell or give cigarettes to minors.

3. We are opposing local, state and federal agencies which discourage smoking.

4. It is inconsistent for a school district to spend thousands of dollars of our money teaching students the hazards of smoking and then permit these students to smoke.

I urge everyone to write to the school board. It is the only way to make your reaction known. Those who feel as I for any of the above reasons, please write today and tell the board.

The meeting will be held in the Farm Advisor's conference room, building 4, County Operation Center, 5555 Overland ave. in San Diego.

Individuals or organizations interested in contracting with the County for the coming fiscal year should prepare a complete statement of justification concerning the proposed project.

The statement should be sent to Steve Schier, County of San Diego, Department of Agriculture, Weights, and Measures, Mail Station 01, 5555 Overland ave., San Diego, 92123.

The deadline for receipt of proposals is November 11. Schier can be reached at 565-5788.

Environment Study Gives Aztec Park OK

The County of San Diego said that the completion of Aztec Park will have no significant effect on environment.

Aztec Park, at Aztec and Morocco drives in La Mesa, is scheduled for completion in the County's federally-funded first year community development block grant application.

An environmental review record is on file with the County's Environmental Analysis Division, 9150 Chesapeake rd. in Kearny Mesa.

The County intends to request funds from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Comments on the environmental review may be submitted to the County's Environmental Analysis Division through December 8, 1975.
